REAL ESTATE IN VIRGINIA FOR SALE.

THE subscriber has not yet disposed of his real estate in Prince William county, Virginia. He is still desirous of selling, and will do so, on accommodating terms. It consists, first, of 0-11 acres of land, in from two and a half to four miles of Brentsville, the county town, fourteen miles of Occoquan, thirty miles of Alexandria, and from four to five miles of the Orange and Alexandria Railroad, which will be completed to Brentsville this year. This land is well adapted to the growth of wheat, corn, ryo, cats, and grass. It is a mixture of the red and groy soil, and admirably adapted to improvement by the use of clover, plaster, guano, see. It is heavily timbered, and finely watered, having lasting springs of the purest water. It is capable of being divided into five or six good sized farms, and with tolerable buildings and small orchards on four of them. I will sell it all in a body to a company, or will divide it to suit purchasers, at prices ranging, according to quality, at from $510 ±89 per acre. I will only require one-fourth of the purchase money in hand, and the balance I will divide in three annual payments, to bear interest from the date of sale, to be secured on the property. Land is rapidly rising in value in the neighborhood, and I offer great inducements now, as I wish to turn my attention to other pursuits.

Secondly, A square of buildings in the town of Brentsville, suitable for a carriage-maker, wheelwright, or blacksmith, carriage, and wheelwright shops, and other necessary buildings, $1600 is now my price for this property—on the same terms as the land. It is within a mile and three-quarters of the railroad.

Thirdly. Nine and a quarter acres of land on the turn-pike, just above Buckland, on which are a good dwellings, slow, and wheelwright shops, kitchen, stable, dairy, and the shop a good stable. For this property i will take $500—on the same terms.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT, }

I'T being desirable to substitute locks and keys of some other kind for those now in use for the mail service of the United States, specimen locks and keys, with propeals to furnish the same, will be received and considered at the Post Office Department until the first day of July next. The different locks will be submitted to a commission for examination and report. Upon this report, contracts will, as soon as practicable, be entered into for furnishing such locks and keys for four years, with the right on the part of the Postmaster General, for the time being, to extend and continue the contract in force for an additional term of four years, by giving to the contractor a written notice to that effect, not more than nine nor less than six months before the termination of the first term of four years.

tional term of four years, by giving to the contractor a written notice to that effect, not more than nine nor less than six months before the termination of the first term of four years.

With a view of procuring the best lock at the lowest price, no kind of lock is prescribed as a standard, the Department relying for a selection on the mechanical skill and ingenuity which a fair competition, now invited, may develop. It is, however, proper to state that a lock suitable for the mail service should possess the following qualities, viz: durability, uniformity, lightness, and strength. For the purpose of displacing simultaneously all the mail locks and keys now in use, about thirty thousand new locks and twenty thousand keysadapted therefore will be required to be furnished by the contractor within seven months after the contract shall have been entered into; afterwards the annual supply will depend on the durability of the locks and keys adopted, as well as the increase of the mail service; but it will probably never exceed in amount three thousand of the former and one thousand of the latter.

No lock will be considered if it be like any already in general use; nor will any one with whom the contract may be made be allowed to make, sell, or, furnish, any lock or key similar to those contracted for for any other purpose or use than that of the Post Office Department.

The kind of lock adopted must be patented, and the patence will be required, on entering into contract, to make an assignment of his patent for the exclusive use and benefit of the Department, if the Postmaster General shall have the right, besides a resort to the penal remedy hereinsfiter mentioned, to annul said contract, and to contract anew with any other party or parties contract the true contract. The right of contracting with different individuals for such different kinds of locks as he may see fit, for furnishing similar locks and keys.

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE

WING to the late revolutions and counter-resplations among the nations of Europe, which have followed each other in such quick succession, and of which "the cird is not yet," the leading periodicals of Great Britain have become invested with a degree of interest hitherto unknown. They occupy a middle ground between the lasty, disjointed, and necessarily imperfect records of the newspapers, and the claborate and penderous treaties to be furnished by the historian at a future day. Whoever reads these periodicials obtains a correct and connected account of all the important political events of the Old World, as they occur, and learns the various conclusions drawn from them by the leading spirits of the age. The American publishers therefore deem it proper to call renewed attention to the works they publish, and the very low prices at which they are offered to subscribers. The following is their list, vis: BRITISH QUARTERLY REVIEWS.

THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW, THE EDISBURGH REVIEW, THE NORTH BERTISH REVIEW, THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW, and BLACEWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE.

BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE.

In these periodicals are contained the views, moderately though clearly and firmity expressed, of the three greatest parties in England—Tory, Whig, and Radical; "Blackwood" and the "London Quarturly" are Tory, the "Edinburgh Review" Whigs and the "Westminster Review" Liberal. The "North British Review" owes its establishment to the last great ecclesiastical movement in Scotland, and is not ultra in its views on any one of the grand departments of human knowledge. It was originally edited by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by his son-in-law, Dr. Hanna, associated with Sir David Brewster. Its literary character is of the very highest order. The "Westminster," though represed under that title only, is published in England under the title of the "Foreign Quarterly and Westminster," it being in fact a union of the two Reviews formerly published and reprinted under separate titles. It has, therefore, the advantage, by this combination, of uniting in one work the best features of both, as heretofore issued.

The above Periodicals are reprinted in New York, immediately on their arrival by the British steamers, in a beautiful elear type, on fine white paper, and are faithful copies of the originals—Blackwood's Magazine being an exact fue simile of the Edinburgh edition.

LEVERETT'S LATIN LEXICON, memann, embring, disc, the chasteal districtions words, and the Etymological Index from Freund's Lexicon.

The present edition of this standard and favorite Latin Lexicon has been much improved by the transfer to its columns of the classical distinctions of Latin words, as given in the Lexicon of Dr. Wm. Freund, of Germany, and translated by Riddle. The classical degree of each word is indicated by a figure; for example, a word without a figure is fully classical and Ciceronian; with the figures 1, 2, and 3, words are classical only in the first, second, &c., degrees; and this distinction the student perceives at a glance. The Etymological Index, also from Freund's Lexicon, has been incorporated into the present edition of Leverett, and will be found a valuable acquisition. While transferring these notes and marks, catalogues were carefully kept of the words found in each Lexicon, which were not found in the other. On comparing these catalogues, it was found that the value and importance of the additional words found in Leverett, so far as a knowledge of the Latin language is concerned, very far exceeds that of those found in Riddle's Fround. The extensive use of Leverett's Lexicon in all parts of the country, and the preference which has been universally given to it over all similar works, render its recommendation superfluents; but attention to this new edition is respectfully invited, as being still more worthy than its predecessors of the distinguished favor-which the work has hitherto received.

Mr. Robert Sears—Dear Sir: I have looked over the entire series of your valuable publications with much interest and profit; and am quite surprised at the amount of literary labor you have performed, and the research it must have cost you to obtain so many fine illustrations, while you have an active superintendence of an extensive business. I am also gratified at the decidedly moral and religious influence which your books will exert, and cannot but hope that they will do much to counteract the effects of that light and immoral literature which deluges the land, and, like the frogs of Egypt, comes up even to the kneading troughs of our kitchers. CAMBRIDGE, January 25, 1845.

Gentlemen: Your letter of the 24th has been received, in which you ask my opinion as to the value of the English Exchequer Reports, from Price downwards to this time, to an American Lawyer, and as to the expediency of reprinting them in this country. Of the high value of these Reports, both on the Picas and Equity sides of the Court, I have not the least doubt—the decisions of this Court for the hast filter on the transfer was better to be the filter of the second of the Court for the last fifteen or twenty years, both at Equity and in Common Law, being entitled to equal respect with any others in England. I should think an American Lawyer's Library essentially incomplete without them.

I am, gentlemen, very respectfully yours, SIMON GREENLEAF. Messrs. T. & J. W. Johnson.
